MARKET COMMENT

Two reports were published recently which size the Investment Universe of the Fund and highlight interesting trends as well. The Global Impact Investing Network (GIIN) published a white paper estimating the size of the impact investing universe. As of end of 2018 the paper shows that 1340 organizations managing USD 502 billion were investing in impact related projects. Assets managers were typically small (Assets under Management on average of USD 452 million, but median of USD 29 million) and majority (79%) were headquartered in Northern America or Western Europe. Development Finance Institutions (DFIs) were managing 27% of these assets illustrating the central role they play in the impact investing sector. Another interesting report – the Global System for Mobile Communications (GSMA) annual "State of the Industry Report on Mobile Money" – was also published recently. The report highlights that more than USD 1.3 billion are transacted every day, with the total number of accounts reaching 866 million at the end of 2018 (+20% compared to 2017). The report also highlights that the impact of mobile money on financial inclusion has extended beyond Sub-Saharan Africa, most notably in Asia and Latin America where activity rates are the highest.
